DEWEY WAS THE CAPTOR

Secured the Surrender of Manila In Short Order

PROPOSAL TO MAKE HIM ADMIRAL OF THE NAVY

Hong Kong, Aug. 17—Special—The steamer Zafiro has arrived with later details of the surrender of Manila. Four ships of Dewey's squadron bombarded Malate an hour, firing a hundred shots, when the Spaniards ran up the white flag. Later the American flag was raised and the formal surrender of the Spaniards completed. The surrender includes sixty-five hundred men, 12,000 stand of arms and an immense amount of ammunition. Five Americans were killed and forty wounded. When the American flag was raised over the city Dewey's squadron fired a national salute. The Filipinos are glad the struggle is over. The shops are again open, the blockade has been raised, and things will soon be in their normal state.

Admiral Dewey's Report.

Washington, Aug. 17—Special—The following cablegram was made public this morning:

Manila, Aug. 13—Manila surrendered today to our land and naval forces under combined attack. A division of the squadron shelled the fort and intrenchments at Malate south of the city, driving the enemy back, our army advancing on that side at the same time. The city surrendered about five o'clock in the evening. The flag is being hoisted by Lieut. Brumby. About seven thousand prisoners were taken. The squadron has no casualties. No vessels were injured. On Aug. 7 Gen. Merritt and I formally demanded the surrender of the city, which the Spanish general refused. DEWEY.

Lieut. Brumby is the admiral's flag lieutenant, and the navy, therefore, is credited with taking possession of the city.

Dewey to Be Admiral.

Washington, Aug. 17—Special—The rank of admiral of the United States navy will probably be revived for the purpose of honoring Rear Admiral Dewey. It was first created by congress for the benefit of Farragut, and lapsed with his death. The services of Dewey at Manila have been so pre-eminent and successful that justice requires some recognition at the hands of the nation, and the plan of making him a full admiral meets with great favor here. There will be no opposition whatever to the proposition, which is growing in favor daily.

Cubans Are Grieved.

Santiago, Aug. 17—Special—The Cubans have been informed by the American commanders that any attempt on their part to enter the city with arms will be prevented by the Americans. The Cubans are deeply aggrieved at Shafter, and glad he is going to leave. Toral departs for Spain today. Linares will be sent away shortly. The death rate is still alarming among the Spaniards.

Dewey For President.

New York, Aug. 17—Special—Tammany has decided to make Dewey its presidential candidate in 1900. In Croker's personal organ this morning the boom is started.

Quiet in Porto Rico.

Ponce, Aug. 17—Special—Quiet prevails all along the American fronts, and while flags are flying on all lines, the Americans and Spaniards are very friendly when they meet.

Forty Thousand in Line.

Chickamauga, Park, Aug. 17—Special—General Breckinridge is reviewing the troops today. Forty thousand men are in line.

Will Be Punished.

Madrid, Aug. 17—Special—Gen. Jardenos will be tried by court martial for not making a greater resistance at Manila.

Carlist Clubs Closed.

Madrid, Aug. 17—Special—Carlist clubs in the province of Aragon have been closed by order of the government.

ORGANIZED FOR WORK

Republican State Convention Gets Down to Business

PLATFORM COMMITTEE ASK AND ARE GIVEN MORE TIME

Convention Hall Milwaukee, Wis., August 17, 1898—[Special]—Chairman Coe called the Republican state convention to order at twelve. Congressman Griffin, the temporary chairman, made a ringing speech. In organizing the committee the first district delegation made these selections: Chairman H. C. Martin, of La Fayette county; Secretary J. L. Sharron, Green; member of committee on resolutions, Wilbur F. Carle, Janesville; permanent organization; Ward Blose, Kenosha; state central committee, Perry Wilder, Evansville, O. E. Getting, Racine.

The meeting adjourned at 12:30 until 1:30 o'clock in order that the committee might confer. There were few developments aside from the fact that the third candidate idea will be killed. It was the general opinion that Scofield had the greater number of instructed delegates, but it appears that LaFollette has the call in this respect. However, a great majority of the delegates are uninstructed, and of these most are for Scofield. It looks like a sure renomination on the first ballot for the present governor. Hob LaFollette is fighting hard, and says it will be to the finish. One of the most significant developments today was the defeat of the plan to have A. R. Hall, of Dunn county, placed on the resolutions committee. Mr. Hall is the father of the movement to suppress all railroad passes for state officers. L. H. Mead was named instead.

WHO WILL CHRISTEN IT? ONLY A LEG REMAINED

Young Ladies Who Are Spoken Of to Christen the Battleship Wisconsin

Milwaukee, Wis., August 17—[Special]—The selection of a Wisconsin woman to be recommended to the secretary of the navy to christen the battleship Wisconsin will not be made today as was expected. The committee meets this evening, but it has been decided to postpone the matter one month. The most prominent women mentioned for the honor are: Mrs. Edmund Tuohy, West Superior; Miss Ada Barling, Milwaukee; Miss Harriet Clark, Richland Center; Miss Lizzie Stephens, Marinette; Miss Marie Cushing, Fredonia, N. Y.; Miss Alice Runk, Chippewa Falls; Miss Caryl Fairchild, Madison. The choice seems to lie between Miss Fairchild and Miss Cushing.

USE DYNAMITE BOMBS

Destructive Missile Thrown By Gambler Into the Home of Their Prosecutor At Chicago.

Chicago, August, 17—[Special]—A dynamite bomb was hurled into the residence of John Hill, Jr., the head of the civic federation, this morning. It exploded and wrecked the room in which it was thrown, but none of the inmates were injured. Mr. Hill believes the bucket shop and race track men whom he has been prosecuting are responsible for the outrage.

MANY PERISH IN A FIRE

Russian Workhouse Burned and a Large Number of Lives Are Lost.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17—[Special]—Another great fire has occurred at Nijel, the work house being destroyed, resulting in the death of many persons. Thirteen have already been recovered.

DIED AT THE INSANE HOSPITAL

James Crotty, of Argyle, Expires Soon After His Arrival.

James Crotty, an insane patient from Argyle, who was in Janesville last week on his way to Mendota, died soon after reaching the asylum. The unfortunate man on his arrival in this city was in charge of Sheriff O. O. Bennett, of La Fayette county, and a close watch was kept over him during his brief stay here, for fear he would do harm either to himself or others. Crotty was but twenty-two years of age, and unmarried. His remains were interred in the cemetery at Monroe.

ment to suppress all railroad passes for state officers. L. H. Mead was named instead.

The convention reassembled at 2:30. The issue was promptly joined on the question of platform.

The platform upon which Governor Scofield will go before the people for the second time will be republican in every word and line. It will endorse the administration of President McKinley in no uncertain terms; it will sound his praises for the conduct of the war, and the bringing of it to such a successful close. It may go into the question of expansion and endorse the principle of annexation. It would not be surprising if the holding of the Philippines was advocated in a plain paragraph.

The temporary organization was made permanent and the resolutions committee given more time to report.

A proposition was made to proceed to the nominating speeches before the platform was reported.

The motion to nominate at once was lost by unanimous vote.

Adjourned until 7 p. m.

For Second Place.

The latest candidates in the field for political honors this morning are Frank Tucker, of Omro, Wis., and Jesse Stone, of Whitewater. Both are candidates for lieutenant-governor, and claim they have strong endorsement.

Benton, Wis., Aug. 17—Frank Gelling, an expert miner and mineralogist of this place, left home last night and went to Eureka mine, where he was employed as superintendent, entered the power house and set off forty pounds of dynamite. The explosion was heard for miles. Only small fragments of the house and only one leg of the victim can be found. The general opinion is that it was a case of suicide. He was about fifty-five years of age.

CORBETT WILL GO WEST

Starts For San Francisco to Bury His Parents—He Will Fight McCoy.

New York, Aug. 17—[Special]—James J. Corbett left for San Francisco this morning. The bodies of his parents will be left in the vaults until his arrival. He denied the statement that his father was financially embarrassed. If McCoy will consent to postpone the contest to any day after September 25, Corbett will fight him.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Alleged Slayer of Emeline Reynolds At New York, Is Arraigned.

New York, Aug. 17—[Special]—Samuel Kennedy was arraigned this morning on the charge of murdering Emeline Reynolds, a young woman found dead in the Grand Hotel yesterday. He was remanded without bail. Kennedy is the man who registered at the hotel with the murdered woman.

SPOONER MAY BE ONE

Wisconsin Senator Proposed As a Peace Commissioner

DAVIS, OF MINNESOTA, HAS ACCEPTED AND WILL SERVE

Washington, Aug. 17—Special—The president has not yet selected all of the men to serve on the Spanish-American peace commission. The presence of Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, here has given rise to the report that he was summoned here by the president to consider a place on the peace commission. The senator called at the white house and had a conference with the president but he was reticent concerning his call and it is not known whether any conclusion was reached. This mention of Senator Spooner's name in connection with the peace commission is due to the well-known fact that the president has great confidence in his experience and judgment.

Havana Is Reconciled.

Havana, Aug. 17—Special—There is general rejoicing here over the restoration of peace. Business, which has been practically suspended since May, is showing many signs of revival. The stores are all open and trade is improving daily although money is scarce and stocks of merchandise low. The streets present a remarkably cheerful aspect, and even the Spaniards are sanguine of better times under the American protectorate. There is less bitterness against the Americans than was anticipated. The officials alone seem cast down and irreconcilable. The majority of the people, however, accept the situation philosophically if not with satisfaction.

The Laugh is On Blanco.

Washington, Aug. 17—Special—The laugh is on Captain General Blanco today. He tried to get out of Havana before the American occupation so as to avoid meeting Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, and asked the Madrid government to relieve him of his command. The request has been refused, and he must remain at his post until the ships come to take him and his soldiers home, and will be compelled to make the formal transfer of the city and its fortifications to Gen. Lee. No one sympathizes with Blanco, for he has proved himself lacking in those generous and chivalrous traits that should characterize the soldier.

Davis Is Selected.

Washington, Aug. 17—Special—Senator Cushman K. Davis, of Minnesota, chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, has been tendered and has accepted the appointment as a peace commissioner to the Paris conference. He is on confidential terms with the president and is highly esteemed for his legal acumen and familiarity with the usage of international intercourse.

Allison Refuses.

Washington, Aug. 17—Special—The refusal of Senator Allison to take a place on the peace commission leaves Judge Day the only one whose membership is absolutely assured. Senator Davis' friends do not believe the able Minnesotan will accept the place.

BATHERSTRANSGRESS THE LAW

Offend Public Decency At Many Places Along the River Front.

J. P. Albee, who resides at 117 North Franklin street, proposes soon to ask the common council to pass a city ordinance making it a misdemeanor subject to arrest for anyone to bathe in the river inside the city limits without a proper bathing suit.

Mayor Thoroughgood has been approached on this same subject, and is said to favor the plan. Many of the law abiding citizens of the city have asked The Gazette of late to bring this matter before the public. Boys and young men bathe in the river, within a short distance of the upper railroad bridge each evening and afternoon without bathing suits, having no regard whatever for public decency. There is now such an ordinance on the books in this city, but it is not being lived up to. What is needed is one or two wholesale raids by the police, and the guilty ones should be brought into court and fined. One or two doses of this medicine is sure to cure.

CONSIGNED TO THE TOMB

Funeral Services Over the Remains of Recent Deceaseds

From St. Mary's church at 9:30 o'clock this morning, Rev. W. A. Goebel held funeral services over the remains of the late Joseph Hennessey. The sacred edifice was filled with friends of the deceased who had respected him through life. The floral offerings were many, and at the close of the services the remains were tenderly borne to Mount Olivet cemetery for interment.

Funeral services over the remains of the late George Kettle were held at 10 o'clock this morning from the family residence in Orfordville. The interment was in the town of Center cemetery.

The funeral of the late Charles Clinton Lord will be held Thursday at 2 o'clock from the home of Mrs. Emma Stenson, 6 Liberty street. Interment in the town of Janesville cemetery.

DEATH RATE VERY LOW

Soldiers Are In a Splendid Hospital

PERCENTAGE OF CURES
EXCEEDINGLY LARGE

Institution Compares With Any in the Country

CANARDS SENT OUT FROM JACKSONVILLE DENIED.

Lieutenant Joseph B. Whiting, Jr., Writes The Gazette Concerning
the Hospital and Its Fine Equipment For Combatting Disease—Assures the People That All That Can Be Done By Anyone Anywhere,
Is Done For the "Boys in Blue."

Lieut. Joseph B. Whiting, sets much of the talk about lack of facilities of the medical service at the hospital at Jacksonville at rest in the following article, written at the request of The Gazette. The death rate at the hospital has been remarkably low; the medical officers have all modern remedies, etc.; and in fact the hospital is of a character to compare with any institution of the kind in the country, either military or otherwise. Lieutenant Whiting writes as follows:

EDITOR GAZETTE:—When I left Janesville to accompany the volunteer army into the field, I promised to look after our boys; and in view of the many misleading and untruthful reports which have been sent North and grown after they reached there, I feel it my duty to comply with your request, and to reassure the fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts, by such explanation as I may be able, that I will keep the promise
then made, to the best of my ability.
It is necessary to talk a little of the military, that you may better understand what a division hospital is—its magnitude and the endless amount of work necessary for its successful operation. A division is composed of three brigades; a brigade is composed of three regiments; a regiment is composed of twelve companies; and a company is composed of 100 men; add to this staff of Colonels of regiments,
the staff of Generals commanding brigades and the staff of the General commanding the division, we have a grand total of about 13,000 officers and men. It is the second division to which the writer belongs. In less than one week after our arrival here,
I was relieved from duty with the First Wisconsin regiment and assigned to the second division hospital.

I reported for duty and was assigned to duty before this hospital could boast of a single patient. I have watched its growth, as the sickness increased until yesterday morning when I made my inspection as medical officer of the day. I reported to the surgeon in charge 353 patients in the hospital; 150 typhoid fevers, 75 malaria fevers, 10 mumps, and 90 surgical cases. This hospital received its first patient May 29th, and as medical officer of the day August 8th, I reported to Major Beckman, Surgeon in charge, that there had been treated to date 13,000 patients with 15 deaths;
a mortality of 1.2 per cent.; that there had been treated to date, 250 cases of typhoid fever with 14 deaths, a mortality percentage of about 6 per cent. No hospital, civil or military, has a better record than that. The division hospital was erected to receive all the sick and wounded who are too sick to remain in their own quarters, who are too sick, or cannot receive proper treatment packed 6 or 8 in a tent in their company street.
Under the present system each regiment is absolutely sure of having its sick and wounded taken care of, and that immediately.

The civil war thoroughly demonstrated that the regimental hospital system was a sad failure. Let me quote to you an extract from Surgeon-General Hammond's letter to the secretary of war dated September 7, '62, referring to the second battle of Bull Run: "Sir—I have the honor to ask your attention to the frightful state of disorder existing in the arrangements for removing the wounded from the field of battle. * * * Up to this date 600 wounded still remain on the field of battle. Many have died of starvation; more will die in consequence of exhaustion; and all have endured torments which might have been avoided."

This letter was written on the 7th of September; the second battle of Bull Run was fought on August 30-31;

600 wounded lay on the battlefield seven days and over. That was under the system of each regiment taking care of its own sick. After the surgeon-general's report to the secretary of war this system was promptly abandoned and the present division hospital system organized. Now let us see how it worked after this responsibility was lifted from the regiment, and placed upon the broad shoulders of the division medical corps, with its organized board of operating surgeons.
At the battle of Antietam the wounded were promptly carried to the rear, and during the night all our wounded in the widely extended field were removed to shelter and received the necessary surgical attention."

"During the night following the first battle of Frederickburg, all the wounded not absolutely in the hands of the enemy were safely conveyed to the city of Frederickburg."

This has been a matter of history for long over a quarter of a century;
still some of the regimental officers and medical officers objected greatly to the arrangement, until the epidemic of typhoid broke out, when they thanked their lucky stars that there was a hospital large enough and equipped enough to shelter, feed and treat them.

I am medical officer of the day, today. That officer is responsible for the detail of the work. He is to see that all orders are being carried out.
In fact he is to see that the theory on which the division hospital system has been worked out, is in practical execution.

Go with me on my morning inspection and I will try and interest you.
The following diagram will give you an idea of the arrangement of the hospital, tents and buildings. It will be seen at once that we have a large spread of canvas.

KEY TO DIAGRAM.

- A, B, C, D, E—Five wards of 14x14 tents; seven tents in each ward, holding six cots each, and if necessary, eight cots each.
- Drug tent, 14x14 feet.
- Clerical tent, 14x14 feet.
- Two operating tents, 14x14 feet.
- Six isolation tents, 14x14 feet.
- Convalescent tent, holding twenty cots, donated by Red Cross society.
- Two tents 14x14, for sick officers.
- Five tents 14x14, for measles.
- Two tents 14x14, for mumps.
- Twelve tents 10x9, for the staff of medical officers.
- Receiving building where patients are received and bathed.
- Bath room for nurses.
- Commissary store-room.
- Kitchen where nurses' food is cooked and prepared.
- Kitchen where patients' food is cooked and prepared.
- Ice house.
- Forty nurse tents, 7x7, sheltering four nurses each.

The receiving hours for patients are from seven to nine a. m. Of course they come in at all hours of the day and night one at a time, but we aim to get all the sick from the different regiments at a stated hour, so that an ambulance bringing patients to the hospital can take away those patients who have been discharged.

We will go over to the receiving room and see if the steward has everything in readiness for the morning arrivals. This room No. 10 is 10x10 feet square and has two bath tubs and a dressing table. Here the patients are bathed and dressed in a suit of pajamas. His name, company and regiment are taken, and the M. O. D. notified who makes a provisional diagnosis and assigns him to the proper ward.

Room (No. 11) is bath room for the exclusive use of nurses. There are two shower-baths made of ordinary sprinkling pail nozzles, and do the work in as fine style as one could wish. Room No. 12 is the commissary's office, hard tack, bacon and other stores. The cook house, this side (No. 13) is where the nurses food is prepared and cooked. This man prepares and cooks the food for 140 hungry nurses in that little room. The outside (No. 14) is where the patients food is prepared and cooked. This other man, who cooks for the patients, is an expert, and dishes out of that little room (No. 14) 280 odd plates of especially ordered diet, three times a day.

Room (No. 15) is the ice house and is filled every morning. The ice is used exclusively for the sick and is furnished by the Red Cross society.
It is used to cool drinks, for ice caps to the head, ice bags to the abdomen and to lower the temperature of the water in the bath tubs in the typhoid fever wards.

This long row of tents are the nurses quarters. These men who are now asleep in these tents were on the night shift and have just come off duty and after eating breakfast have gone to bed.

These two tents (No. 3) are the operating tents. There three sterilizers are going night and day, keeping an adequate supply of boiling water on tap at all hours.

This ward is known as E ward and is a fair sample as they are all alike
as regards the disposition of nurses and care of the sick. This man standing at the head of the ward is the ward master. He superintends the nursing in this ward. He is especially qualified as ward master, having served three years in Bellevue hospital and resigned to join the army.
Those men you see through there standing at "attention" at the foot of the cots are the nurses. They are on the look out for the officers of the day, as they know the result if his inspection goes to the surgeon's charge. The other four wards are exactly the same as this one. Different ailments in different wards, the management is the same.

These six tents (No. 4) three on each side of the operating tents are called "isolation tents," and are for patients who for any cause should be isolated from the rest. This merry-go-round tent (No. 5) was furnished us by the Red Cross society, and is used for convalescents. It holds twenty cots. These two tents (No. 6) are reserved for sick officers. Over there (No. 7) are five tents for measles and next to them (No. 8) two tents for mumps. This tent (No. 1) is the drug tent and is quite a "young drug store." This one (No. 2) is the clerical tent. All the records are kept here. The work here is a steady grind, but is kept in perfect order by a corps of fine penmen who were detailed on account of their special training as bookkeepers in banks, clearing houses and custom houses.

ing the hospital proper are the medi-

There seems to be a new party in Wisconsin politics this year. They are neither republicans, democrats, pugilists, prohibitionists or Bryan men, but La Folletteites. Many of them say they will bolt the republican party if "Bub" is not nominated, hence they place their idol on a pedestal and will worship at no other shrine. Perhaps that is a successful way to secure "reform" with a large "B," but with a fact staring them in the face that similar tactics, engineered by the same faction, dishonored Wisconsin with four years of democratic legislation and sent two democrats to the senate, the republicans of the state feel that La Follette-ites are not safe leaders.

CUBANS MUST OBEY ORDERS.

Instructions Sent to Major General Lawton.

OUR OFFICERS ARE SUPREME.

The United States is responsible for the maintenance of law and order in the conquered territory—interference will not be permitted.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The war department Tuesday afternoon posted the following reply to an inquiry from Maj.-Gen. Lawton, commanding the department of Santiago, for instructions as to the policy to be observed toward the Cubans that are within his military department:

"Commanding General Department of Santiago, Santiago de Cuba: Replying to your message for instructions, the president directs that you be informed that the United States is responsible for peace, and must maintain order in the territory surrendered and in your department, and must protect all persons and their property within said jurisdiction. Interference from any quarter will not be permitted. The Cuban insurgents should be treated justly and liberally, but they with all others must recognize the military occupation and authority of the United States and the cessation of hostilities proclaimed by this government. You should see the insurgent leaders and so advise them. By order of the secretary of war, H. C. CORBIN, "Adjutant-General."

ALL OVER WITH THE KLONDIKE.

Returning Gold Seekers Give Discouraging Reports of Country.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 17.—The National City, thirteen days from St. Michaels, arrived Tuesday with about seventy-five passengers from the north, and very little gold dust, outside of that shipped by established companies in Alaska. Several of the Klondikers on board had amounts ranging from $500 to $2,000, also papers representing claims. Nearly all of the gold-seekers, however, gave anything but encouraging reports of the country. The first question asked by the voyagers was: "Has the war ended?" and when told it had, they replied in chorus, "Well, it's all over with Klondike, too."

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played Yesterday in the Various Leagues.

Boston, apparently invincible on the home grounds, not only inflicted the almost expected defeat upon Burns' men yesterday, but through New York's defeat of the Reds usurped the premier position so long held by Cincinnati. The position seems safe for the present, considering the game Duffy's men are putting up. Baltimore toyed with Louisville, while Cleveland stayed in Chicago's class by dropping a game to Brooklyn. Pittsburgh and Washington were the other winners. Scores:

At Boston—Boston, 5; Chicago, 4.
At New York—New York, 4; Cincinnati, 0.
At Brooklyn—Brooklyn, 6; Cleveland, 2.
At Baltimore—Baltimore, 9; Louisville, 1.
At Philadelphia—Pittsburg, 6; Philadelphia, 5.
At Washington—Washington, 10; St. Louis, 2.

The Mining Scale Menaced.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 17.—At the conference of miners and operators here Tuesday President S. M. Dalzell of the Illinois Operators' association presented the formal protest against the petition for a reduction of the scale in the Virden sub-district. The national board took the case under advisement. The Virden operators ask for a reduction from 40 cents to 30 cents per ton. While the protesting operators declare that they will not agree to this reduction, it may be that the committee can fix a scale that will obviate a general demonization of the trade.

New Peril for Spain.

Madrid, Aug. 17.—El Liberal, discussing the eventuality of a conflict between Great Britain and Russia, thinks it a cause of fresh peril to Spain, and urges that special preparations be made for the defense of the Balearic Islands and the coast towns of Andalusia. It says: "For three years we have sought to defend our honor and Spanish sovereignty in the colonies. Today we are threatened with another danger. We have to defend our homes."

PLAYED EXCELLENT BALL

Janesville Defeats Clinton in a Good Though One-Sided Game

It's a long lane that has no turning. The lane the Y. M. C. A. ball team traveled with the Clinton line was not a very long one and comprised but one defeat, yet the Janesville boys thought it was long enough and determined to change its course. This was accordingly done at Athletic Park yesterday, and the home team trounced the visitors handsomely by a score of 11 to 4.

The game was a good one throughout, each inning being sharply contested, and excellent play marked both sides. Fisher, for the home team, pitched effectively, and struck out nine men. He gave no bases on called balls. McMaisters was a power in the catcher's box, and gathered in everything that came his way. In the field all the home players did excellently.

The play of the visitors had few weak points. The cause of their defeat was simply that they were over-matched, and at several critical stages had bad luck. They took their defeat philosophically, however, and the best of feeling existed between the victors and the vanquished, before, during and after the game. Mr. Rudolph, assistant physical director of the Y. M. C. A., umpired the game to the satisfaction of all concerned. The score was as follows:

Janesville..... 1 0 0 1 2 0 2 4 1-11
Clinton..... 0 3 1 0 0 0 0 0 4-11
Struck out—By Fisher, 9; by Massey, 3.
On balls—O'Malley, 4. Home runs—Strothers, Clark. Two base hit—Strothers, Blakely. Hit with pitched ball—McMaisters' Moehlenpau. Faced ball—Fry, 1. Wild pitch—Massey, 1. Three base hit—Oleson.

DEATH REAPS A HARVEST

Two Estimable Evansville Women Called to Their Reward.

Evansville, Wis., Aug. 17.—[Special.]

Mrs. Angeline Whaley, aged 81 years, 5 months and 16 days, died yesterday morning at the home of her brother, James M. Ballard, in this city, of general debility. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon. The remains were taken to Olean, N. Y., for burial. Mrs. Arthur Johnson, of Chicago, died Monday, in Sioux Falls, S. D., where she went a few weeks ago for her health. Mrs. Johnson, better known as Cora Kelly, resided in Evansville during her girlhood, and leaves many relatives and friends here who deeply mourn with the husband and three little children now left without a mother's care. Mrs. Johnson was about thirty years old, and had been in poor health for the past two years.

History Repentant Itself.

"Here you've been telling me right along," said the bright-faced young wife, "what a wonderful cook your mother was. And now your Aunt Jane has just told me that your father was a chronic dyspeptic."

"Well, you see," the young husband murmured with a deep sigh, "mother learned by practicing on father."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CAMP GOSSIP AT JACKSONVILLE

TIMES ARE DULL AMONG JANESVILLE'S SOLDIERS.

A Good Many Are Ailing But None of the Cases Are Considered Dangerous—All Available Precautions Are Being Taken For Comfort and Health.

Camp Cuba Libre, Jacksonville, August 14.—The list of sick at this writing is as follows:

At division hospital—Sergeant Schmitt, Corporals Brown, Knappshild, Jollyman; Nurse Gleason; Privates Woletz, Sisson, Correll Brothers, Harid, Morton, Haller, Fladness, Farmer, Winans, Bond, Trolle, Chapman, Simmons (E), Wilbur, Salzer, Miller, Pitt, Christanson, Cunningham, Preuss Brothers, McNeil, Gumbert, Gifford, Hein, Baldwin, Biggar, Swartz.

In their quarters—Sergt. Frow, Corporals Baesman, Collins, Lawir, Privates Wheeler, Caniff, Swift.

Convalescent at Pablo Beach—Privates Keese, Synott, Linderud. Convalescent in quarters—Sergeants Hill, Corporals Smith, Irish, Privates Dixon, Ludtke.

Everyone else is all right to day, except Privates, Sheldon and King, who are at St. Luke's for the excellent care secured there.

The return of Private Irish was a joyful event, as he has been one of our worst cases at one time, we feared that he would leave us.

The men have just been getting their tents, the 0x12, elevated about three feet and now comes word that the final issue of new ones takes place tomorrow. The new ones are only 7 x 8 so every one is figuring how to utilize their platform.

Corporal Collins has become expert in taking camp photos, so much so that he charges for what he does and is selling a good many. His "results" are very good.

Lieutenant Fred Mart of Co. E, is going home with body of a member of that command, who died last night. According to present plans he will probably visit Janesville while in Wisconsin and, I am sure, will gladly answer any questions asked him.

Private Fletcher, of the Ambulance Corps, has applied for and gotten a furlough to go to Janesville. He will not however, leave here for a week or ten days.

It seems an assured fact that we, of Lee's division, are to go to Cuba; but just when no one can say—probably some weeks yet.

Now, with twenty-five thousand troops here, the people of Jacksonville are taking to the woods, as it were. When we go down town we crowd the streets, eat up the restaurants, clean out the fruit stands, pack the churches, buy out the hotels and generally fill every nook and crevice of this man's town that offers a chance of passing a leisure moment.

And Jacksonville puts itself on the back, appoints committees from its own people who glorify the healthfulness of this camp, jollies up the new arrivals, takes our money and will keep us here just as long as possible.

Private Halverson, of the hospital corps, had a nice new hat issued him. He made a mistake, today, and took some one else's nice new hat. But it is not as nice and new a hat as his was, and now he is sore.

Sent to Pablo Beach Convalescent hospital from company quarters: Sergts. Brown and Hill, Corp. Collins and Baesmann, Artillery Subaltern, Private Duller, Caniff, Ludtke, Baxter, Stennett.

They will breathe the good air, enjoy the sea bathing and, we hope, be home in a week all right.

More Fall Shoes Have Arrived.

The best Shoe builders in the United States have been called upon for our stock this season. Dressy people like to be foremost in foot styles and therefore make early fall purchases. For these folks and all early fall buyers we are preparing every day a great ovation in pretty footwear. You can be the first to wear the correct styles for fall if you wish to purchase now.

Our Summer Tans Must Move.

The incoming of our fall stock makes it a necessity to push out all summer tans—men's and women's, boys' and misses'—as hurriedly as possible. Our shelf room is already crowded to its utmost capacity. We are making prices that will move summer goods, and each sale is a surprise party to the purchaser. You will find it so if you try us.

Good Shoes.

Cost more than poor ones. Sometimes the Shoe you pay the most for costs the least. It depends on where you buy them. Cheap folks ask less for cheap Shoes than we ask for good ones, but theirs cost the most in the long run. We have placed all broken sizes in Oxfords on our bargain table and marked them, choice, 98c. SOLDIERS DEAD AT JACKSONVILLE

HARRY GIFFORD EXPIRES IN CAMP OF FEVER.

Sad Intelligence Reaches Janesville This Morning—His Mother On the Way to His Bedside—Albert J. Swartz, Another Resident, Falls Victim to the Same Disease

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 17.—[Special]—Private Harry Gifford, of Janesville, died in division hospital, of typhoid-malaria with complications, at 5:10 last night. His age was twenty-two years. He enlisted April 28. His mother is Mrs. Ella Gifford, of No. 205 Division street, Janesville. He worked for the Parker Pen Co., and has been ailing for weeks.

Private Albert J. Swartz died at 2 p. m., of typhoid-malaria with complications, aged nineteen. He enlisted June 20. His father is William Swartz, of Pierceton, Ind.

On the receipt of the first telegram yesterday afternoon notifying local relatives of his illness, Mrs. Gifford at once made preparations to visit Jacksonville for the purpose of caring for her son. On the 2:15 train she left expecting to reach her destination some time Thursday afternoon of this week. Towards the midnight hour last night the following message was received in the city directed to George S. Parker, and coming from Captain Hanson at Jacksonville:

Jacksonville, August 16—George S. Parker: Harry Gifford died at 5 o'clock this afternoon. CAPTAIN HANSON.

This message was delivered this morning and caused sorrow throughout the city. Mrs. Gifford being well on her way to the south, the next question was how to overtake her with a message. This morning Mr. Parker sent the following telegram to Tullahoma, Tenn:

Mrs. Ellen Gifford, en route to Jacksonville, Florida. Care of Dixie Flyer, Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway. Harry died last night. Will be buried today. Better stop and return to Janesville, as you cannot see body. Wire me when you start back.

In a strange land where friends are unknown, one can well imagine the shock that message brought to a loving mother who was on her way to care for her only son.

When the telegram boy walked through that trail at noon today the shock must have been one that only a woman with a heart of iron could stand. When Mrs. Gifford left yesterday, her only hope was to reach the bedside of her boy before all hope was gone. She thought that if she could once be with him, she could nourish him back to health again.

The cause of his death was typhoid fever. The body was buried in the cemetery at Jacksonville today.

Harry Gifford was born in Milwaukee, twenty-two years ago last month, and has for the past four years resided in this city. Prior to his removal here he resided in Milton ten years. The deceased leaves a mother and one sister, Mrs. Ella Gifford, and Miss Jessie Gifford, of 205 Division street, and to them will be extended the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Mr. Swartz came to Janesville last October, and entered the local school of telegraphy. He resided at Pierceton, Ind., and was the son of William Swartz, a prominent and highly respected farmer, residing near that city. At the telegraph school this morning inquiry revealed the fact that Swartz was but nineteen years of age, and was one of the brightest scholars who ever entered the school. He was quick to learn, and was a prime favorite with all who knew him. On first reaching this city Swartz boarded with Mrs. Harris at No. 5 Prospect avenue, and afterwards resided on North Jackson street. When the war broke out, and a number of his schoolmates enlisted in Company A and went south under Captain Hanson. His remains will be interred at Jacksonville.

HAIL INJURED SOME TOBACCO.

Damage Not as Serious as was at First Reported.

Joseph Simon, of Sparta, Wis., was in the city today, having a deep interest in the damage wrought to young leaf tobacco by the late hail storm. Mr. Simon is here in the interest of a township insurance company which has made it a point to place much insurance on growing tobacco in this section, of late years.

A ride through the country shows that the damage is not so bad as was at first reported. In the town of Janesville and in the vicinity of Fulton the hail got in its work to some extent. An estimate of the total damage has not yet been made.

ROSS KING DANGEROUSLY ILL

Now at Jacksonville Hospital Suffering With Typhoid Fever

A telegram arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Captain Hanson stating that Ross King was dangerously ill at Jacksonville with fever. George E. King, the druggist, left this morning for the purpose of bringing his sick brother to this city if such a thing was possible. King was taken ill several days ago, and was then obliged to take to the hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King, and is well known throughout the city.

We have a few more of those remnant matings at 10 cents per yard and have added 200 yards of ends to our Ingrain carpet offer at 42 1/2 cents per yard; another case of those Burlington hose worth 30 cents, for 11 1/2 cents. Bort, Bailey & Co.

It takes three hours for Chicago evening papers to get to Janesville. It takes less than one second for the telegraph to cover that distance. The Janesville Gazette receives full press association dispatches, and the news is three hours later than that of Chicago and Milwaukee evening papers sold in this part of the state.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. E. O. Ferrin, of this city, and is a young lady, who during her three years' residence in this city, has drawn about her a large circle of friends who love and esteem her for her many good qualities. Prior to her removal here she resided in Darlington.

The groom to be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Blakely, and is a model young man who needs no introduction to the local public. He is a graduate from the state university, and is respected by all. To Mr. and Mrs. Blakely hearty congratulations from a large circle of friends will be extended.

At Court Street M. E. church parsonage, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Rev. W. A. Hall spoke the words that united as one, Elmer J. Cahill and Miss Carrie M. Lindeman, both of Darion. The time will be spent in all manner of outdoor sports calculated to develop the youth physically. Boating and fishing will be indulged in, and lawn sports will serve to entertain those who have no taste for the water. RARE TREAT FOR TONIGHT

"A Breezy Time" For Those Who Visit the Opera House.

Those who enjoy good music, catchy airs and comical situations have a treat in store for this evening, when Fitz & Webster's company of musical comedians will present the comic production "A Breezy Time," which has had so successful a run at the east. Few musical comedies have enjoyed the prosperity that has fallen to the lot of "A Breezy Time." This is easily explained by the ability with which its managers have always catered to the theatre-going public. There is never anything old or worn-out to be seen in "A Breezy Time." Its music is always bright and the very best, and its specialties novel and up to date. Some of the big features this season, are the Dago serenade, the female clown, Tennis quartette, three-legged sailor, and a grand cake walk, which shows up the entire company in a clever absurdity. "A Breezy Time" is now in its seventh season, and doing a larger business than ever before simply because it is a better show than ever before, and the public have always had confidence in Fitz & Webster, and know they are not slugging when it comes to dispensing fun.

AFTER THE BATTLE BEFORE SANTIAGO

FRANK NICKERSON TELLS OF THE FIGHT.

Some of the Scars Left By the Rain of Shot and Shell—Rough Riders Are Not Good Soldiers—Pitiable Condition of the Native Women and Children.

Frank Nickerson, of this city, writes to his mother from Santiago under date of Aug. 27, giving a brief account of the situation of affairs there. The following extracts from his letter will be of interest here:

When they surrendered we guarded the Spanish soldiers for a while, and then they were given to the Twentieth Infantry, and we were sent back into the hills into a better camp. On the way back we passed the women and children going back to their homes in Santiago that they had left for safety. They were mostly on foot. Young, old, crippled and crazy. It was a touching sight to see. The well were dragging the sick; mothers could be seen carrying sick children, while the well ones clung to their dresses crying with hunger. Many died along the road; no one seemed to care how many died, and perhaps thought, as I did, the sooner they all died the better they were off. We marched on through a small town where our troops had fought on the 1st. The dead were buried here, but the town was a wreck. Cuban and Spanish women and children are all flocking to Santiago, where they will starve if the United States does not feed them.

We are camped near a mountain stream so we have good water. We see Santiago and the bay from our camp. There are twenty-two large ships in the harbor today. We think they will take the Spanish prisoners out. Are in great hopes they will ship us soon.

None of the papers I have seen give us credit for our fight; it is all the Rough Riders and the Seventy-First New York. The Rough Riders were on our right, and not in as hot a place as we were. The Seventy-First were not in the firing line until after the two hills were taken, but any man that was here at all deserves all the credit he will get. The Seventy-First and Rough Riders lost their men because they would not scatter on the line, but came up like sheep, and one shell or bullet would mow them bad. The regulars came up in good line about a yard apart, and came to the very front of the block houses and trenches, while the Rough Riders took the flank on our right; the Seventy-First got in bunches back of the line, and drew several volleys before they got on the second hill, and then were running from place to place instead of lying down and fighting, as they should have done. All did well, however, and the world cannot help but speak well of American nerve.

A MARVEL.

An old astronomer there was
Who lived up in a tower
Named Ptolemy Copernicus
Flammarion McGover.
He said: "I can prognosticate
With estimates correct,
And when the skies I contemplate
I know what to expect.
When dark'ning clouds obscure my sight,
I think perhaps 'twill rain,
And when the stars are shining bright
I know 'tis clear again."
And then abstractly he scanned
The heavens hour by hour,

THAT SEDAN CHAIR.

"I repeat it," said Jacques d'Ebli-guac, with an emphasis so curious that all turned to look at him; "it gave me the fright of a lifetime."

"A sedan chair?"

"Yes. Listen, if you would know all about it." And he told us the following story:

"A love tale," said he, "of the city of Lille, of my twentieth year, and my pretty cook's daughter, a mere child, but so pretty, so sweet, so adorably coquettish; moreover, so admirably skilled in all pertaining to her father's business. Nowhere else could I buy such cake, such buns, such sugared almonds. And the stacks and stacks of rich confections that I devoured each day to prove my devotion!"

"The fire of my love—which she returned between the smiles bestowed upon her father's customers—alone saved me from gastritis by consuming the heaviness of my stomach."

"This was the state of things, when, one day, I chanced to find the pass key of 'le pere,' who spent half his time in the winshop across the way and the other half gossiping at his door with his equally idle neighbors."

"Determined to profit by this piece of luck, I managed to speak a word to Victoire, my little sweetheart, and to propose to her a visit to the theater that evening. If she could elude the vigilance of her mother and join me unseen. She could easily re-enter by means of the pass key."

"Victoire was charmed with my inspiration, and six hours after I had conceived the project we had carried it into execution. Although it was the middle of the winter the night was superb, a late rising moon, but thousands of brilliant stars shining from every quarter of the heavens. Victoire trembled like a leaf in the wind, but I was filled with such burning ardor that it mounted to my head like a drink of wine."

"We were young, you see; the theater for us a scene of enchantment, in love with each other and more than happy. Our hearts, like the strings of some delicately tuned instrument, vibrated to the slightest touch. In fact, we forgot everything but each other and never thought of moving when at last the final curtain fell until the lamplight appeared to turn out the lights."

"Hurrying then to the street," we found that the night had changed. The stars were gone, the moon hidden under a canopy of clouds, a cold, penetrating rain beginning to fall and all the sedan chairs gone with the stars."

"No, I was wrong; one was left standing by the roadside a little way below us. At sight of it a fatal idea popped into my brain. It was not yet very late, and I had still so many beautiful things to say to Victoire. Why not get into that chair, a refuge from the chilly rain, and talk everything all over again?"

"The clock at the corner was just striking 12 as we slipped into our movable apartment, rather cramped, to be sure, but both of us were light and thin; so, drawing close and snug like birds in a nest, we awaited the passing of the shower—cheerfully awaited it, too—when all at once something very strange occurred."

"The door of the house near which the chair was standing opened noiselessly, as if hung on velvet, and two men looked out, evidently desiring neither to be seen nor heard."

"Assured of solitude and a clear coast, they descended to the street, bearing in their arms a heavy burden. Just at that instant the moon slid from under the clouds, and we distinctly saw that this burden was a human being wrapped in a long cloak closely muffled about the face and shoulders."

"This was startling enough, but fancy our horror when the bearers of this strange load moved straight to the chair where we crouched in terror, and one of them already had his hand on the door when Victoire uttered a stifled shriek, answered by a frightful oath, and quick as a flash the men were gone as they had come, and the door reclosed as softly as it had opened."

"The whole thing had passed so quickly that we might have believed it some fearful vision, only doubt was not possible—we had seen it—both of us had distinctly seen the same thing, and without a spoken syllable were filled with the same blood freezing thought—murder—a murder doubtless committed in this very house, from which the murderers were now seeking to carry away and to conceal all traces of the crime with the victim's body."

"Oh, let us go, let us go!" moaned Victoire tremblingly. "Let us go at once, Jacques. I am so frightened!"

"Go? Yes, I was willing enough, but how? For as Victoire spoke, two men emerged from the darkness around us—we could barely distinguish them, as the moon had gone behind a cloud again—caught up the chair and were bearing us away into the dismal night."

"This was a predicament. We were stupefied. What must we do? Cry out, and make a dreadful scandal? Betray Victoire, and expose myself to the risk of discovery? Never! It was not to be thought of! It was not to be thought of! It was one of those times when trust in chance was the only resource, hoping by blind confidence to propitiate her favor."

"Perhaps this was our case; perhaps, and I am inclined to think the latter, we were both so frightened that we had neither the strength nor the courage to attempt anything. Victoire had unconsciously thrown herself into my arms. Her warm breath fanned my cheek. Her little hand held fast to mine. No matter what threatened us, it was something, at least, to have gained this happiness; we would die together, her last sigh on my lips."

"For these men—we were sure of it—were accomplices of the first two, and by a previous arrangement they had been engaged for the carrying off and concealing of the dead body. Deceived by our joint weight, they believed they had it, and we, instead of the murdered victim, were hurrying away through the shadowy gloom."

"True, so we were, but where were we hurrying? Where were we heading, as the men trotted on with swift, untrusting steps, at times almost a run? What were they going to do with us—their sinister burden?"

"Presently we saw that we were passing one of the city gates leading into the distant country. Again I was tempted to cry out, to call to the sentinel, but fear for Victoire deterred me. Victoire, whose mother believed her slumbering sweetly under her little white curtains."

"What should I do? What could I do? I was nearly distracted."

"By this time we were clear of the suburbs, but still swept onward. Another lightning of the sky, and I saw ahead of us a glistening sheet of water, the river Deule. I knew it well—a deep, rapid stream, the running of whose current we even now could hear."

"Undoubtedly the wretches were going to fling us into this seething vortex. This time I would have cried out, but Victoire, mad with fright, clung so tightly to my neck, clasping me with such force that my voice died in my throat, my eyes closed and the cry was strangled. . . ."

"How long a time elapsed I never knew. I was brought back to consciousness by the chair striking the ground. They had set it down preparatory to—yes, but where, where? Decidedly not in the river. It was a room, on the contrary, the dirty, grimy chamber of a low country winshop, where a crowd of rough, coarse men were drinking, swearing and rolling about a lot of boxes, barrels and packages, like merchandise."

"Mme. Jervaise, Mme. Jervaise!" they shouted in chorus, as our bearers set us down. "Have you brought us Mme. Jervaise?"

"She is here," the bearers replied.

"To work, to work, then! We have no time to lose."

"And the chair door was thrown open. But scarcely had they caught sight of Victoire and me, crouching half dead in the bottom of the chair, when a wild stampede took place, a helter skelter rush for the outside. The lights were extinguished, the third of feet was heard pounding away into the night, and then a deep, bloodcurdling stillness."

"We were alone in black darkness. Luckily I had noticed the direction of the door. To leap from the chair, seize Victoire's hand and make my way to it was the work of a second. The clouds had not deepened, the rain had ceased, and by the purest miracle we found the road back to the city. By daylight we were safe at home."

"A fortnight later perhaps an article in a morning paper gave me the key to the mystery of that hideous night in which we (Victoire and I) had been so strangely involved. The article announced the capture by the police of a band of smugglers who had installed themselves in an old, abandoned winshop in the outskirts of Lille—a regular magazine, as it turned out, of contraband goods, which they had smuggled in and out of the city by means of a manikin representing a sick old woman, partly paralyzed, and which, muffled in wraps and placed in a sedan chair, they carried back and forth under the very nose of the gendarmes without the slightest fear of detection."

"An invalid ordered by the doctor to take the steam baths," they told the officers of the law, "by name Mme. Jervaise."

"Mme. Jervaise!" The name told me all and explained everything that hitherto had seemed mysterious and inexplicable in our midnight adventure. Happily for us our nocturnal escapade had never been suspected, and Victoire and I escaped a summons to appear as witnesses before the court of assizes. All the same from that day to this the thought of a sedan chair gives me goose flesh down the spine."—From the French in Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Chrysanthemum.

When the plant was introduced, about 1840, it was only the small daisy-like flower, now only seen as a rule in cottage gardens, which was highly prized as a novelty. The taste for growing and showing it began early, and before 1860 there were many chrysanthemum societies in existence, among them the Stoke Newington, which formed the nucleus of the National society. Yet it was not until 1859, when the plants suffered severely from early frosts, that there was any idea of growing it under glass. The Japanese variety was noticed in 1864 as a novelty, "very curious and interesting, but scarcely ornamental." How little did the author of these remarks suspect what a future was before the plant he so summarily set aside! Three years later, however, we find Japanese varieties recommended with pomp and inaccuracy, and since then they have ever increased in favor.

The gorgeously colored, moplike blooms now exhibited every autumn would certainly astonish that writer of 80 years ago. The golden and bronze shades of the chrysanthemum suited the taste of the promoters of the "high art" aesthetic movement of a few years ago, which, if it had no other merit, helped to bring this flower more forward and revived the culture of sunflowers, which were fast becoming extinct in our gardens.—Longman's Magazine.

TRAGEDY IN CORBETT FAMILY.

Father of the Pugilist Kills His Wife and Then Himself.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—P. J. Corbett, father of James J. Corbett, the heavy weight pugilist, Tuesday shot and killed his wife and then turned the weapon upon himself with fatal effect. It is believed the murderer was demented. He had been in extremely poor health for some time, and had just returned from Bartlett Springs, where he had been stopping. Death was instantaneous in both cases.

The shooting occurred at the residence of the Corbett family, 520 Hayes street. Shortly before 5 o'clock in the morning, Mr. King, a son-in-law of Corbett, who was living in the house, heard two shots in his father-in-law's room. Hurrying there he found Mrs. Corbett dead in bed and his father-in-law dying on the floor. Mrs. Corbett was in her night attire, while her husband was fully dressed.

New York, Aug. 17.—James J. Corbett was much shocked when he learned of the death of his parents. Corbett said his father must have become insane or he would not have committed such a terrible deed. He could not account for it in any other way. He will stop training for the present, and his fight with McCoy at Buffalo on Sept. 10 may be postponed.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 17.—"Kid" McCoy telegraphed the following to Jim Corbett:

"My sincerest sympathy in your great bereavement. If I can serve you in any way command me."

Then he gave out this general dispatch:

"Corbett, his brothers and sisters have my sincerest sympathy. He can do as he likes about the contest. I will not claim forfeit."

Crises Is Near at Panna.

Panna, Ill., Aug. 17.—There was no further serious trouble at the Springfield coal mine Tuesday. Some of the miners appeared on the scene with rifles and shotguns, but their leaders induced them to lay aside their firearms.

The operators of the four mines have now exhausted every effort to induce the miners to leave the union and return to work below the scale and without union organization, but without success, and have given out their intention to bring in negroes. The negroes are to bunk in houses to be erected on the shaft's property. Two men are said to be now in the south negotiating for negroes and other foreign laborers who, if brought here, will cause bloodshed.

Legal Lights at Saratoga.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Famous members of bench and bar have begun to arrive in Saratoga for the twenty-first annual meeting of the American Bar Association, which begins Thursday. Among the first to arrive was the secretary of the association, John Hinkley of Baltimore. The most important work of the convention, and probably the most important ever undertaken by the association, will be the consideration and adoption of resolutions recommending radical changes regarding the federal courts of the United States. The special committee appointed by the last convention to draft the resolutions is at work putting the finishing touches on its report.

Senator Allison Declines.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The president tendered to Senator Allison of Iowa an appointment as a member of the peace commission. Senator Allison, however, could not see his way clear to accept the honor. He explained that the interests of his state in the senate, and his desire to continue his former vigorous participation in the shaping of legislation in that body and other public duties, would preclude his taking up the arduous duties at Paris that would demand so much time and serious work.

Commissioners Appointed.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The president has appointed the two commissions to adjust the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico. They follow:

For Cuba—Major General James F. Wade, Rear Admiral William T. Sampson and Major Matthew C. Butler.

For Porto Rico—Major General John R. Brooke, Rear Admiral Winfield S. Schley and Brigadier General William W. Gordon.

Big Fire in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17.—A great fire at Nijni Novgorod, capital of the government of the same name, near the confluence of the Oka with the Volga, about two hundred and fifty miles northeast of Moscow, has destroyed a number of factories and eighty houses. Forty persons have been injured and damage to the amount of $1,500,000 rubles has been done.

Tommy Ryan Ready to Meet McCoy.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Tommy Ryan, the welter-weight champion, announced that if James J. Corbett, in view of the tragedy in his family, did not desire to meet McCoy in Buffalo, Sept. 10, he, Ryan, would take Corbett's place, fighting in the middle-weight class for any purse satisfactory to McCoy.
